FROM RICK'S DESK

Living in Hope Daily

When we study God's Word on hope, we find that it is not defined as living in the clouds and dreaming of a better life. It is not merely a projection of somewhere we would rather be or something we would rather do. A Believer's hope is not passive, it's active. Hope opens our eyes to the here and now and allows us to live differently. We are not blinded by societies' thirst for possession and power. Instead, we are given a source of energy (hope) to walk through the world knowing God's promises.

The Bible teaches us that the promises of God are not "permission" to sit down and wait passively for whatever to come about, as if by magic. Take Abraham for instance. With God's promises came actions to be obeyed, "Leave your country and your home for the land I will show you." (Genesis 12:1) To enter into God's promise, Abraham is called to go make a pilgrimage to undergo a new beginning.

A similar call to action occurred not long after Jesus gave the Great Commission (Matt.28:19,20). It happened at Jesus' ascension when the angel told the awe-struck disciples, "Men of Galilee," they said, "why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen him go into heaven."(Acts 1:8-11) You see, believing that our savior lives is not meant to take our minds off the tasks of life but rather, it's a call to go.

Even with this believer's hope and the indwelling of the Spirit, we live in deep solidarity with a humanity that has cut itself off from God. In short, we live in a sinful world. The apostle Paul speaks of the suffering of this world as he writes, "We ourselves, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly" (Romans 8:18-23). Our faith is not a privilege that takes us out of the world. We "groan" with the world, sharing its pain. But we live this situation in hope, knowing that in Christ, "the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining" (1 John 2:8).

You see, hope means discovering, in the present, at this time, an unstoppable life that leads continuously forward and upward, committing to Christ our whole being. We plant seeds of renewal that will bear fruit when the time comes. And we know the time will come, for God has promised it.
